He denounced exclusive society and urged the girl graduates to use their influence in improving the society they are in, and to work to improve poorer homes.

List Will Be Announced at Convocation in Open Air Amphitheater Next Wednesday.

The list of applicants for the traveling fellowships which the American University is to award at its convocation day next Wednesday at 2:30 p. m. embraces a number of young men and women from various parts of the country.

The university board of award to select the fellowships includes Secretary of State Bryan, Secretary of the Navy Daniels, United States Commissioner of Education P. P. Claxton, Dr. Alfred Charles Truitt, dean of the Graduate Agricultural Schools of the United States Government; Thomas N. Carter, the distinguished sociologist of Harvard; Dr. John W. Alumni Will Play Georgetown Team

Thousand Expected to Assemble For Graduate Celebration Here Next Month.

A baseball game between a team composed of former players and the present team of Georgetown graduates at the commencement next month.

The general committee, headed by S. L. Owens, has outlined a general program, and work has been delegated to a number of committees that will work out the details. The invitations that were sent to graduates in all sections of the country have been so readily accepted that it is expected that at least 1,000 will attend the celebrations on alumni day. Special costumes are being arranged for the different departments, and considerable rivalry has already developed between the classes that want to make the strongest showings in the matter of numbers.
